GRAVE THREAT TO SOVIET BLACK SEA PORT AND NAVAL BASE OF NOVOROSSISK DEVELOPS AS ALL-OUT NAZI DRIVE ON CITY OF STALINGRAD IS OFFICIALLY REPORTED CHECKED

German Troop Transports and Naval Vessels Reported Attempting to Land Shock Troops Along Coast near Terminus of Main Caucasian Railway Line from Baku

(By International News Service)

MOSCOW, Sept. 5 — With the all-out Nazi drive on Stalingrad officially reported checked for the time being at least, a grave new threat to the great Soviet Black Sea port and naval base of Novorossisk developed today.

German troop transports and naval vessels were reported attempting to land shock troops along the Black Sea coast near Novorossisk, terminus of the main Caucasian railway line from Baku in the oil fields.

The Soviet high command threw Stormovik dive bombers into action in an effort to head off this new German thrust. These formidable craft equipped with 75 millimeter guns capable of blasting even the heaviest tanks caused havoc among the initial German landing parties.

At least four barges dropped off transports and fully loaded with Nazi troops were sunk, as were two gunboats of the escorting Nazi fleet.

Heavy fighting continued meanwhile at Stalingrad where, according to an official Soviet communique, the main German drive has been stemmed although isolated local advances continued.

By W. P. Saphire

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
CAIRO, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Allied armored forces, including American tank crews, after frustrating two Axis assaults, continued to press the Germans and Italians back to the West, dispatches from the desert battlefield said today.

Tanks, airplanes and artillery batteries were reported hammering steadily at Nazi General Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's mechanized units in a battle which some observers believed might develop into an Allied counter-offensive.

After Rommel was forced to make two withdrawals following failure of assaults on the Imperial defense line running south from El Alamein to the Qattara Depression, fighting on a considerable scale developed south of the Ruweisat Ridge.

The action was said to be moving westward as units of the British Eighth Army brought renewed pressure on the Germans and the Italians 10 miles below the Mediterranean coast. Rommel, whether unable to do so or still attempting to regroup his forces, failed.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

(By International News Service)

Embattled Soviet armies on the Volga line rallied in the last defenses before Stalingrad and have brought the Nazi offensive to a halt, a Soviet communique declared today. But while it was reported the enemy's advance has been checked it was conceded that German attacks were continuing on a furious scale and only the bitterest resistance by the Russians was holding the Nazis from the industrial city that is the prize in the most gigantic battle in history.

The Germans threw planes and tanks and men against the Soviet lines in a reckless effort to smash the Stalingrad defenses.

"Enemy advances have been checked southwest of the city," the Soviet communique declared. "On the northwest all attacks have been repelled."

Stockholm reports said the Nazis had reached the Volga both above and below Stalingrad and were only six miles away on the south. The "ruined and flaming" city was under constant fire of German artillery, the Stockholm dispatches declared.

The Russians admitted another withdrawal northwest of Novorossisk, Black Sea naval base, and indicated that fighting around Moxdok, in the Southern Caucasus, had brought the German advance to a standstill 60 miles from the Grozny oilfields.

A Zurich dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company quoted Berlin predictions that Stalingrad would fall within 48 hours and that Novorossisk "probably will be captured today."

Allied bombers were over Germany, suggesting that both the RAF and the Red air force had gone into action. Another long-range bombing force raided Budapest in the satellite state of Hungary, Berlin said, but neither Moscow nor London gave any hint as to the identity of the raiders.

Observers pointed out that Budapest is 900 miles from London, and that the nearest Russian bases are about the same distance from the Hungarian capital.

Dispatches from Egypt said the Allied forces were holding the initiative after twice throwing back the Axis tank columns. Delayed reports told of Allied bombing attacks ranging from Candia, in Crete, to the airport at El Daba just behind the desert battle line.

At least two enemy ships were reported sunk and five damaged heavily in recent attacks.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported an attack on a Japanese cruiser southwest of New Guinea. Axis

SERVICES REQUIRED OF CHAPLAIN ARE NO "CINCH;" MEMBERS OF CLERGY MUST BE EXCEEDINGLY ROBUST, OUTDOOR MEN

By International News Service
CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—(INS)—If you are robust in health, live a vigorous outdoor life and are prepared to endure any hardship, there is a place for you in the army or navy.

This is not an appeal for enlistment as a Commando, as it seems, but for a chaplain.

The Army and Navy Commission of the Missouri Synod Lutheran Church, at a regular monthly meeting, revealed the demand for chaplains, but pointed out the stern physical and mental requirements.

The commission approved the application of several men for chaplains' posts, but was forced to reject others of service. The Rev. Paul L. Dannenfeldt, of Fort Wayne, Ind., chairman of the commission, said the Missouri Synod now has 96 chaplains on active duty, but emphasized there still is a great demand for more men.

He added:

"The armed forces have set a rigid standard for chaplains, and a minister must meet all requirements before we approve his application. Most of those we recommended are between 35 and 40 years of age, with a fine record in the pastorate.

"A candidate for a chaplain's berth must be robust in health, live a vigorous outdoor life and be prepared to face any hardship. This war does not offer a soft, sheltered existence for anyone, and the chaplain must be ready to face suffering and death as much as any other officer or man in the ranks.

"If he can prove he can 'take it,' then we consider his qualifications. He must be a college and seminary graduate, or the equivalent, have a good scholastic record, and then must have at least three years active service in the pastorate. If he has been an athlete in college and is a leader of men in his parish, all the better.

"Following his acceptance, he goes to a chaplaincy school, where he goes through a course of rigorous training and hardening. Then comes his assignment."

Who is Going to Collect Junk?

(By "The Stroller")
"The Government tells me to save tin cans and other junk, but what am I to do with it after I save it?"

This is the question housewives in this area frequently ask.

Some housewives here have flattened out their tin cans and have them stored away, but there they remain.

The other day a Courier reader wanted to know what to do with a lot of tin cans he had. "I also have an old ice cooler," he said. "What shall I do with it?"

LABOR DAY

In America today—as in days of peace—the man who works with his hands is incomparably better situated than any other worker in the world. If he works in a war industry, he will probably celebrate this Labor Day on the job and he will do it gladly because he will be aiding his country to vanquish its foes.

The American worker is part of a system of free enterprise which dem-onstrably lifts standards of living higher than any other. His wages are incomparably higher than those received by workers elsewhere, and the money he receives for his services has a higher purchasing power.

Despite the tightening pinch of priorities, the American worker has a wider range of consumable goods to choose from than his contemporary in any land. The American worker has a chance to advance himself by his own efforts. The American economy has not yet become so stratified that it is impossible to ascend from one level to another.

This America has given the man who labors with skilled hand, head and eye a place to make him the envied of all who toil. And it will make it possible for him to retain his opportunities. America is a land where problems are solved with the heart as well as with the head. It has taken the lead in forcing the inhuman machine to yield to human needs.

In the long vistas ahead, in time of war and in the peace to follow, many developments will come to threaten the well of the worker as the world twists and turns, but the worker has the assurance that at every turn his world-leading status
here in America will be preserved.

That is why the American worker engaged in constructing the machines for the destruction of the Axis will work gladly this Labor Day. He likes everything to work for.

SCHOOL BELL RINGS

The sound of the school bell is heard again throughout the land, heralding the beginning of a new school year and heralding the end of summer vacation time. The young generation is again wrestling with the task of acquiring an education.

To those of school age vacation time always seems too short, and this summer was no exception, but there are compensations in resumption of studies. It is good to see classmates who have been seen intermittently or not at all during vacation.

Dividing the experiences of the summer generates an endless amount of conversation. There are some new boys and girls in school, too,
and the promise of new friendships.

The war, too, inspires much school-age thought and comment.
The young generation is definitely conscience-stricken, and it Hitler and Hirohito could beat only some of the ideas designed to effect their downfall put forward by Young America, they would know that they have started something that they can never hope to finish.

Operation of schools in wartime presents many problems for school officials as well as for the teachers.
There is a serious shortage of teachers in some localities and schools have been forced to resume with a curtailed teaching staff. Many married women teachers who had not expected to return to school rooms are back at their desks.

If inflation is to be curbed, somebody will have to devise a new type of curb service.

In the local school there is an en-

the grades as follows: first grade, eight; second grade, 17; third, five;
fourth, nine; fifth grade, 16; sixth, 12.

George Colville, grades fifth and sixth.

In the one-story building, the portion that was built several years ago to divide the building into two classrooms has been removed thus making one large room. As this is the room in which primary grades are held, this will afford more space for games and activities which the beginners need.

The War at A Glance

reports have claimed recent Japanese landings in the Gorda Islands, west of Timo.

An International News Service compilation in Washington today accounted for destruction of 1,500 Japanese planes and 225 warships and auxiliary vessels since the outbreak of the war.
Military men said these losses, plus the casualties among personnel, was responsible for the bogging down of the Japanese offensive in the Pacific.

These losses, it was pointed out, have been made in "defensive-offensive" warfare by the United Nations, and are an indication of what may happen once our real offensive campaign gets started.

(Special to The Courier)

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The marriage of Miss Monica Brice, daughter of Mrs. John Francis Brice, of Brice House, Bensalem Township, Pa., and New York, to Mr. William Morgan Hobbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton St. Clair Hobbs, of New York, took place at 4:30 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, in the chapel at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church here. The Rev. Humphrey A. Walz, minister of Second Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. A reception was held at the Colony Club.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Ethan Allan, the bride was attended by Mrs. Alfred Parker Morell, Philadelphia, as matron of honor. Other attendants were her sisters, Mrs. Ethan Allan and Mrs. Fitch Monroe Briggs, of New York.

Mr. Elton St. Clair Hobbs, Jr., was best man for his brother. The ushers were Captain Lyman White, Captain Alfred Howes, U. S. A.; Mr. David Barber, of Wilton, Conn., and Mr. Fitch Monroe Briggs.

The bride wore a heavy white moiré gown, made princess style and with long tight sleeves, a short train, and trimmed with self-fagoting. She also wore a short chiffon veil, bordered with moiré fagoting, and carried a bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia.

The matron of honor wore a princess gown of hyacinth blue tulle, a shoulder-length veil to match, and a floral headpiece of flame colored chrysanthemums to match her bouquet. The attendants wore similar style gowns of flame shade tulle, and carried lilac chrysanthemums.

Following a honeymoon trip the couple will reside in New York.

The bride is a granddaughter of the late United States Senator Calvin Brice, of Ohio. She was educated at Osgood School and Bryn Mawr College. Mr. Hobbs was graduated from Lawrence Smith School. He is a direct descendant of Colonel Augustine Warner, who was Speaker of the House of Burgesses, and of Robert Morris, signer of the Declaration of Independence. He is a writer for magazines and for American and foreign newspapers.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)

Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

Almighty and Most Merciful God, we acknowledge and confess that we have sinned against thee in thought and word and deed; that we have not loved thee with all our heart and soul, with all our mind and strength; and that we have not loved our neighbors as ourselves. Forgive us of our faults and shortcomings, and through the outpouring of thy Holy Spirit enable us in the future to amend what we are, that our lives may be lived in closer accordance with thy holy will and purpose. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Labor Day's Nutritive Needs

By BETTY BARCLAY

Nutrition is in the limelight today. Working men as well as their families need nutritious foods to supply the necessary fuel for strenuous war times. Balanced diets are in order. Vitamins must be secured. Necessary minerals are required regularly. Here are several Labor Day recipes that will blend with your own nutrition program:

A "Starting" Cocktail

Canned, unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice, which is a good source of vitamin B₁ and C, plus other vitamin-rich fruit juices, makes this delicious as well as healthful cocktail.

Combine two cups canned, unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice, one cup peach nectar, one-half cup orange juice, two tablespoons lemon juice, and crushed ice. Shake thoroughly and serve at once in fruit juice cocktail glasses. Chill canned fruit juices thoroughly in refrigerator before opening. Yield: six servings.

A Nutritious Vegetable Dish

Creamed Limas
2 cups cooked, dried Limas
1 cupful cream (or milk)
2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 bouillon cube
½ cupful boiling water
Additional seasoning to taste
Melt butter, add flour, stir until smooth, then add milk and bouillon cube and cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Add Limas and re-heat.

Spinach, Dutch Style
1 box quick-frozen spinach
2 cups boiling water, salted
1 tablespoon butter, melted
1 tablespoon flour
¾ cup light cream

¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon scraped onion
1½ teaspoons vinegar

Drop frozen spinach into briskly boiling salted water. Bring again to a boil and boil 4 to 6 minutes, or until just tender, separating leaves with fork during cooking. Drain and chop. Combine butter and flour in saucepan and stir until smooth. Add cream gradually and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add spinach and remaining ingredients and heat thoroughly. Serve at once. Serves 4 to 6. You'll avoid all the tiresome tasks of cleaning and trimming when you use quick-frozen vegetables, which come to you all ready to cook. Remember that quick-cooking in a low amount of water makes the most of the precious vitamins which, along with fresh flavor and a full quota of minerals, were sealed in by quick-freezing.

Barbecued Spare Ribs

½ lb. spare ribs for each person to be served ½ cup lemon juice
½ cup butter or other shortening
1 clove garlic
½ cup warm water
1 onion, chopped
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 can thick tomato soup or stewed tomatoes
1 crushed bay leaf

Broil spare ribs until a golden brown. Make a sauce of other ingredients by placing shortening in saucepan and adding onion and garlic. When onion is tender, add lemon juice to which chili powder has been added. Then add soup and water. Crush bay leaf and add and simmer until all ingredients are thoroughly cooked together. Serve the sauce hot over the spare ribs.

Orange Rennet-Custard Topped With Brown Sugar and Puffed Rice
1 package orange rennet powder
1 pint milk, not canned ½ cup puffed rice
5 tablespoons brown sugar

Make rennet-custards according to directions on package. Chill. When ready to serve, sprinkle 1 tablespoon puffed rice and a little brown sugar on each dessert.

Magic Angel Food Cake

Slice day-old white bread, ¾ inch thick. Trim off crusts. Cut into strips ¾ x 2 inches. Spread strips on all sides with sweetened condensed milk, covering well. Then roll in dry shredded coconut, broken fine. Brown under low flame, or toast on fork over coals. The result is magically like angel food cake, coconut frosted — but it doesn't make any demands on your sugar quota.

Coffee For The Crowd

Put one pound decaffeinated coffee, regular grind, in a cheese cloth or muslin bag, which is large enough to hold at least twice that amount. Drop bag into large kettle or boiler containing 2 gallons boiling water. Cover tightly, reduce heat so that coffee does not boil, and let stand 8 to 12 minutes. Plunge bag up and down in coffee several times, then remove bag from coffee. Keep coffee hot for service. Serves 40. This decaffeinated brew ends the dilemma of coffee lovers, at a picnic or other holiday gatherings, who worry over sleeping problems. You can freeze a trayful of decaffeinated coffee cubes so that your thirst-quenching beverage won't be weakened by melting ice.

to a spell-bound audience last night at the Grand Theatre.

Starring George Montgomery, Maureen O'Hara and John Sutton, the film has a patriotic appeal that is bound to thrill every American. It's a rousing successor to "To The Shores of Tripoli," and it zooms through its paces without a hitch.

"Ten Gentlemen From West Point" is the story of the valorous cadets who made the West Point of today possible. Against the stirring, breathless background of the Point of 140 years ago, the star-spangled film authentically depicts the adventures of the first graduating class.

If accident insurance companies need any additional figures to show how dangerous it is just to be at home, George Brent, who plays hero to Joan Bennett in Edward Small's "Twin Beds," the hilarious farce at the Grand Theatre, Sunday and Monday, can supply them.

A film which has a background of unusual interest is "She's In the Army," the picture which opens at the one of the Henry Aldrich series.

DECIDING GAME OF PLAY-OFF SERIES IN THE BRISTOL SUBURBAN LEAGUE TO BE PLAYED HERE TOMORROW AFTERNOON

The fifth and deciding game of the playoff series of the Bristol Suburban League will be played tomorrow afternoon on St. Ann's field. Game will start at 3 o'clock sharp. In the event of rain, the game will be played next Sunday. Edgely and Voltz-Texaco are the contesting teams.

The officials have announced that three umpires will be used in the tilt. Joe Kervick will umpire behind the plate. Walt Miller will take care of the plays at first and second base and Leo Burke will be in charge at third base.

The series now stands even at four games. Edgely won the first and third games with Voltz-Texaco winning the second and fourth. In the entire four games pitching has predominated and tomorrow's duel is expected to be an other one of those pitching contests.

Either Turner Ashby or Howard Black will throw them in for the Edgelyites while the Voltz-Texaco moundman is almost certain to be "Loggie" Bragg.

Ashby is undefeated this season in the local league, having pitched and won five games. Last Sunday he came through with a 4-3 victory when "Vic" Rockhill singled in the tenth inning to send the winning run across the plate. Black finished the season with five wins and three losses and was beaten in the game he pitched in the playoff series.

"Loggie" Bragg, the colored ace, is one of the most outstanding pitchers in the league. He lost the first game he pitched this season and then went on to win seven straight during the course of the season. He pitched one game in the playoff series and won that, blanking the Edgely boys. Bragg claims that he is in fine shape for the tilt and expects to do a fine job.

In the game played Wednesday night, both hurlers, Gallagher and Linck did fine work in allowing but four hits each to hold down the batting averages of the players. In the entire series each team has been credited with 21 base hits, averaging a little better than five hits per game. Johnny Dick seems to be leading the batters with four hits in ten trips to the plate.

The bright spot in the series has been the fielding of both clubs. Although charged with errors occasionally, in the pinches the teams come through with fine stops and catches to prevent runs. In the first inning of Wednesday night's game, Freddie Baiocchi leaped high into the air to snatch a wild throw by Tazik and prevent two runs from crossing the plate. And in the last inning of the same game, Harry Berry raced almost into the tall weeds in right-center to catch Rockhill's bid for an extra base hit.

Voltz has scored nine runs in the series while Edgely has crossed the plate seven times. In the two victories chalked up for the Voltz team the hurler pitched shutout games.

This game is being conducted by the league officials with the receipts going into the league treasury. Before game time, the managers will toss to see which team will be classed as home team.

FLEETWINGS ARROWS TO PLAY AT BETHPAGE

The Fleetwings Arrows will journey to Bethpage, L. I., tomorrow, to meet the Republic nine on its home diamond, and thus try to avenge a 4-3 defeat suffered the first time the two met a few weeks ago.

A bang-up game is in prospect, because the first time the Arrows and Republics met it was nip and tuck all the way, and the game was called at the end of the fifth inning because of rain.

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — Olivia de Havilland, lovely Warner Bros. star now working in "Princess O'Rourke," dined at Don the Beachcomber's the other evening with friends from out of town. Olivia looked perfectly stunning in a turquoise crepe dress featuring a sun-ray-tucked-torso, deep V neckline, tight sleeves ending just below the elbows, and a front-draped skirt. Olivia's stunning black accessories included a high-crowned, cloche bonnet of felt, long, crushed suede gauntlets, suede bag and pumps. Diana mond ear clips, brooch and bracelet were smart accents.

At the Mocambo the other evening Dorothy Lamour wore a white moire gown with a dropped shoulder line accented with chartreuse organdy tulips. A peplum, knee-length in front and full-length in back, was a striking style feature. Miss Lamour completed her ensemble with a white fox cape, long chartreuse gloves, and a single chartreuse organdy tulle fastened in her hair with a diamond and emerald cornucopia clip.

Peggy Diggins, young Warner Bros. player, has just returned from a month's vacation in New York. While there, Peggy, who was a famous New York model before entering pictures, posed in several gowns designed by noted Eastern stylists. She purchased one of these for her personal wardrobe. Air Raid Wardens and Emergency Policemen:

You Air Raid Wardens and Emergency Police are doing a fine job.

You are working for the protection of others, and to safeguard the property of others.

You realize your responsibility to the community and are conscious of the fact that you may be called upon to render service not to your liking; but a service which in European countries has proven to be of inestimable value.

There are critics who are standing on the sidelines.

Some of these critics laugh at the efforts you are putting forth.

They laugh at air-raid drills and blackout tests. They seem to think that it is all a joke.

When asked to help, their reply is: "Oh, I'm not interested. Can't you get someone else? I'm terribly busy." Many so answering have never been known to take much interest in community affairs. They were never the ones who would join in and help put over a project for the benefit of the community. They were generally to be found on the sidelines, not cheering but razzing. Their razzing was perhaps in a jocular manner but they appeared to be endeavoring to belittle the movement.

Every community has this type of resident. Their scope of interest is rather narrow and they are self-satisfied.

But, Mr. and Mrs. Air-Raid Warden and Emergency Policeman, you have recognized your duty to your community and to your fellow man.

Don't let the scoffers dissuade you. Work all the harder so that when the time comes, and pray God that time will never come, you will be prepared to render a service to all mankind.
